In his groundbreaking new book, 'The Corner of Fourth and Nondual: My Theology,' renowned theologian Dr. Paul S. Chung takes readers on a transformative journey into the heart of faith and reason. Through a series of deeply insightful essays, Dr. Chung explores the dynamic interplay between these two seemingly disparate realms, revealing their profound connection and the transformative power they hold for our lives.

Navigating the intersection of Eastern and Western thought, Dr. Chung challenges conventional understandings of spirituality and faith. Drawing from his vast knowledge of Christianity, nondualism, and contemporary social issues, he crafts a compelling narrative that invites readers to question their assumptions and embrace a more inclusive and expansive view of the divine.

With captivating stories from his personal and professional life, Dr. Chung invites readers to explore the complexities of faith, the nature of suffering, and the search for meaning in a rapidly changing world. Through his profound insights, he reveals the transformative power of embracing both the rational and the mystical, the finite and the infinite.

'The Corner of Fourth and Nondual' is not just a theological treatise; it is a personal invitation to engage with the deepest questions of life. Dr. Chung's writing is both intellectually stimulating and deeply moving, offering readers a unique opportunity to reflect on their own beliefs and spiritual journeys.
